TRANSITIONAL HOUSING, SHELTER, ASSISTANCE, REPAIRS

Justice Home

Justice Home is Christian-based transitional housing for women. While they primarily focus on assisting inmates and recently released inmates, they will accept those who are not from that background. They have only been in existence for a year. They are housed in a double-wide modular home and currently have 4 women residing there. Each person is managed on a case-by-case basis and their length of stay is determined on an individual basis. Individuals pay $300 per month. Children are not allowed to reside in the facility with their mothers, but regular visitations take place. They occasionally drug test.

Concho Valley Turning Point, affiliated with Rust Street Ministries

Concho Valley Turning Point is relatively new to the community. They have an 8-unit apartment complex for men looking for Christ-Centered transitional housing. Rent is $100 per week, per occupant. This price includes utilities up to $75 per month. Concho Valley Turning Point is non-denominational, but they are faith based. Prospective tenants can fill out and return an application for housing to be reviewed by the CVTP housing team. If accepted the tenant is required to follow their transitional program, which involves about 5 hrs a week dedicated to spiritual growth, building new relationships and developing new ways of thinking. Tenants are also required to maintain employment and volunteer for some community service. The focus at CVTP is transitioning back into society as a productive citizen, so rental agreements are for 90 days. If after the 90-day agreement the tenant still needs more time, and has been following the CVTP program, then they will be reviewed to determine if their lease will be renewed for another 90 days. This is a drug and alcohol-free community. Any violation of the program guidelines can result in immediate dismissal from the CVTP apartments.

PaulAnn Baptist Church Transitional Housing for Women

It is an 8-unit apartment complex for women transitioning out of treatment. Potential renters must fill out an application and participate in a preliminary interview. The Board reviews applicants to determine who is the right candidate to live in the facility.

Women are allowed to bring their children, but all applicants are reviewed on a case-by-case basis and adult children are not permitted. No men are allowed at all. Applicants cannot have a violent or sex offender criminal history.

The ideal renter will only need to reside there from between a year and year and a half. Safety is a top priority, and the address of the complex is not publicized, nor is it revealed to the applicant until they are approved to move in.

Renters are required to attend counseling regularly and to become part of their Celebrate Recovery Group. Renters are also required to undergo mandatory drug testing.
